Communication

knowing where other members currently are (When they get home)
Thiago

"Sometimes I search someone and I don't know where he/she is" Thiago

clearer communication to prevent misunderstandings Thiago

"Sometimes there are some misunderstandings"
Thiago

Open Communication is the key solution
Khaled

expectations not always communicated Cristina

digital possibility to better communicate needs
noonnatt

"[...] we simply have an analogue shopping list."
noonnatt

distribute household planning
noonnatt

"I need to communicate more clearly what I want and work with lists."
noonnatt

More/earlier communication
noonnatt

"Sometimes I wish my flatmates would communicate earlier. Regarding their daily presence or their expectations of me."
noonnatt

"I would have to divide things up more clearly and formulate my wishes more clearly."
noonnatt

Explaining opinions and hearing each other out
Khaled

Opinions need to be respected and explained
Khaled

We always thank each other for doing something. It is important to not take it for granted that somebody always does something Khaled

communication could be more open Cristina

reduce mental load due to world events
noonnatt

"And the uncertain future. [...] And that depresses me too."
noonnatt

more appreciation
noonnatt

"[...] foster a culture of appreciation. [...]"
noonnatt

Many women feel unappreciated for the mental and physical work they're doing at home.

More reachable flat mates
Marcello

I would wish for some of my flat mates to be in the common rooms more often in order to be able to communicate more frequently. There is some people I haven't seen in ages. I think that is the biggest problem. I simply can't reach them and they also don't read my messages..."
Marcello

People should try to improve flat → Do more activities together
Marcello

"If you take for example planning a get together for, where you have to cook with others or something like that. I would say it is a mental load having to think about quite a few things. However in the end it is something good for the flat thus it is worth it."
Marcello

"I would actually like to do more with my flat mates"
Marcello

Need certain rules to not have to always tell what to do → one cooks, the other cleans up
Marcello

Communicate with others when help needed
Marcello

"There is times when one has nothing to do and there is times when one has no time at all. This should probably also be taken into account when planing chores"
Marcello

Flexible/dynamic chores that can adapt according to energy and time schedule
Marcello

The better we understand/ get along with each other, the easier it is to commu...

Comparison (fairness)

planning/tracking app to compare time spent on household tasks / work without giving too much private information
Marco Weder

Way to compare time spent at work with time spent on household would help
Marco Weder

"I would refuse to write everything down in detail, it takes too much time and nobody needs to know what I did exactly and at what time"
Marco Weder

"It would be interesting to show how much time the partner spends compared to me [at work], perhaps both have the feeling that they do more"
Marco Weder

Remember that others also do tasks that might be difficult
Marcello

Specialization: if one likes to do a certain task or is better at it → do it everytime
Marcello

more acknowledgment and appreciation
Cristina

I think it would be interesting to see and demonstrated how time consuming everything is.
Cristina

"I do a lot of smaller tasks that, in their sum, still require a lot of time and energy but are hard to capture individually. I feel like my effort there largely goes unnoticed or underestimated because it might not be as flashy as for example cooking a meal."
Cristina

always busy with tidying, running errands and other smaller household tasks
Cristina

Better participation of flat mates in household tasks
Marcello

"It would be nice if the others would also see the problems that have to be fixed. Then it would not all be on my shoulders. However, then again I think to myself: somebody has to do it right?"
Marcello

"When there is a problem that has to be fixed, there are certainly some people in our flat that would never do something about it"
Marcello

digital solution to improve distribution of tasks taking living situation into account
noonnatt

[...] this plan is then worked out [...] And that [...] external factors are also discussed: how much do I have to work, how clean does it have to be for me?
noonnatt

Mood Tracking

track/display emotions over time with location, people, ...
noonnatt

"It would be interesting to see how highly you rate yourself."
noonnatt

"It might be interesting to keep in mind that people have their own plans and sometimes they might have less time and energy to do tasks than at other times"
Marcello

Skip unimportant tasks if not in the mood/ overwhelmd
Marcello

easily show positive events people had (from this article in desk research)
noonnatt

"Users require easy access to prior reactions to revisit the positive moments in their relationship."
noonnatt

Assistance w/ communication

(Digital) Assistance

Time management

outsourcing of decisions
noonnatt

"My life is much easier because this [to-do list] exists."
noonnatt

Tracking of food/ meals
noonnatt

"So it [shopping food] would have to be semi-automated, [...] [it] goes shopping.
noonnatt

Caretakers for the dog if the couple wants to go out
Khaled

They have a "live in the moment" lifestyle: Work when it's needed (also sundays), sick dog always needs a caretaker
Khaled

Some way to combine and simplify shopping lists and communication
Khaled

Bring!: "List has been updated" notification unreliable
Khaled

Bring!: No way for communication ("I added a new element", "I'm done checking the list"), needs to use another App (Whatsapp)
Khaled

Avoid Forgetfulness
Khaled

Even if people remind me to do something, after a short time I'll forget to do it Khaled
